Reflection on Team Project

The effectiveness of the Team

To start with, the team I am going to select must be the leading and the eminent one. The reason for it is because its dynamics contribute to both challenges and success as to the potential crew. The work that should be done must be successful since they all know what is expected of them and the team is familiar with the possible challenges they might face. The team has a very high probability of handling the problem. The unit will be equipped with the necessary equipment.

The contribution of the Team Dynamic towards the Challenges of Creating an Implementation Plan

By analyzing the context in which an individual is identifying and operating the strategic options and also by evaluating and selecting the most suitable options. The strategy produced informs the one how to set and achieve targets regardless of how far the success is expected (Kerzner H & Kerzner R, 2017). Also when the individual is developing a strategy at the team-level, the process involved is very significant as the overall outcome. Moreover, one should recognize the exclusive capabilities and finally understand the best way to use them for their benefit while reducing all the concerns. The process identified and the tools used will always help in determining some potential approaches for success so the individual can select the right information.

The effectiveness of the Model Selected by the Team

Always make the team involved aware of what is expected of them. The teamwork is known as the ability to work together towards achieving a common goal consistently. Also, commonly known the fact that the driving force allows a lot of people to attain extraordinary results. That also includes partnering with the individuals who have a weakness with a person who exhibits the same strength in the same area which creates a lot of opportunities for sharpening the excellent skills of people. If the salesperson working lacks the abilities of cold-calling, then pairing them with a single person who excels will then give them weak chance individually.

Always provide some opportunities for growth since there are some seminars held for the continuing programs offered by third parties and they create a very effective space for learning of the individuals to overcome some weaknesses. This can be done by utilizing the available resources and by having the best employee with the sharp minds by leading a particular area and the strengths (Santamaría et al., 2017).

What Could Be Done Differently If Given the Chance?

I was given the opportunity of working on the project on my own; there would be no much changes since I have to take the steps such as self-awareness, motivation, and regulation. Teamwork is the best strategy to bring this innovation.

Things That Contributes to a Higher Effectiveness

The team always contributes to a very high motive and innovative thinking since it helped both physically and mentally. This is by giving ideas and by helping out in the work, therefore, keeping one motivated.
